

Print | Close this window

China sovereign fund eyeing infrastructure, green energy

---

Tue Sep 8, 2009 10:59pm EDT

HONG KONG, Sept 9 (Reuters) - China Investment Corp (CIC), the country's $200 billion sovereign wealth fund, is eyeing investment opportunities in infrastructure, green energy and other forms of innovative energy transmission, a senior CIC executive said on Wednesday.

The price gap between buyers and sellers is narrowing for infrastructure assets, but assets are still not cheaply priced, said Zhou Yuan, CIC's head of special investments department, which oversees direct investments abroad for the sovereign fund.

Zhou said CIC's role is often misperceived outside of China, adding that the sovereign wealth fund planned to be a "very small player" in global infrastructure. (Reporting by George Chen; Writing by Joseph Chaney, Editing by Jacqueline Wong)

© Thomson Reuters 2009. All rights reserved. Users may download and print extracts of content from this website for their own personal and non-commercial use only. Republication or redistribution of Thomson Reuters content, including by framing or similar means, is expressly prohibited without the prior written consent of Thomson Reuters. Thomson Reuters and its logo are registered trademarks or trademarks of the Thomson Reuters group of companies around the world.

---

Thomson Reuters journalists are subject to an Editorial Handbook which requires fair presentation and disclosure of relevant interests.